INDIANA AIR GUARD
181st Intelligence Wing
Terre Haute, Indiana

BASIC MEMBERSHIP QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

1. What is the Air National Guard?

The Air National Guard is a Reserve branch of the United States Air Force, and serves alongside active duty Air Force members in times of a national crisis. In addition, the Air Guard serves the state and local community in a wide range of capacities.

2. Why do people join the Air Guard?

The reasons are as diverse as our members and include such reasons as a deep desire to serve their country, money for college, travel, new job skills, and the pride that goes with belonging to the greatest military organization in the world.

3. How many years do you enlist for?

If you are Non-Prior Service, the typical enlistment is for 6 years with 2 years in the inactive reserves (non-drill status, but subject to call up). If you are Prior Service, enlistment options vary from a 1 to 6 year enlistment, depending on your qualifications.

4. What is basic training like?

Basic training is approximately 8 ½ weeks of intense training at Lackland AFB in San Antonio, Texas. While there, you will make the transition from civilian life to military life. In addition to various types of military training conducted, you will learn Air Force history, customs and courtesies, and proper wear of the uniform.

5. Can I come home between basic training and technical training?

Normally no, unless you are required to do so.

6. What are the basic qualifications to join?

For Non-prior Service:

- Armed Services Vocational Aptitude Battery (ASVAB) test. Minimum Score is 31.
- Pass a military physical
- Have no alcohol or drug abuse or excessive law violations
- Have a high school diploma or GED, or be within one year of graduating from high school
- Be 18 years old (17 with parental consent), and less than 40 years old

For Prior Service:

- Received an Honorable discharge from your branch of service
- Be able to complete 20 creditable years of service by age 60. Your prior service time counts towards the 20 years of service.

7. What is the process to enlist?

Contact your local Air Guard recruiter at 812-877-5200 (Terre Haute) or (317) 992-2682 (Indianapolis) to schedule the ASVAB test and enlistment physical. Once you meet the basic qualifications, you'll need to select a job and visit that work center for specific job information.

8. How much money can I make? [Weekends & Annual Training (AFT)]

Your base pay is determined by your rank and years of service. For example:

Rank	Weekend Pay	AFT Pay
E-1	$206.24	$773.41
E-2	$231.18	$866.94
E-3	$243.09	$912.12

You may also qualify for additional income; see recruiters for details.

9. What type of a military retirement would I receive?

Members who accumulate a minimum of 20 years creditable service are entitled to receive a military retirement at age 60. Your retirement pay is based on your rank, years of service, and total retirement points accumulated

10. What about education benefits?

Several education benefits are available to unit members. For example:

- As you train, you will be awarded college credits that can be applied toward an associate degree in your military career field, through the Community College of the Air Force. The credits earned may also be applied toward a college degree.
- We offer unit members free Defense Activity for Non-Traditional Education Support (DANTES) and College Level Examination Program (CLEP) testing that allows members to earn college credits through specialized tests.
- Full-time students receive over $362 per month for college through the Montgomery G.I. Bill. Money for part-time students is prorated accordingly.
- College courses are offered here on base for a nominal fee through Oakland City College and Vincennes University.

11. Do I have to buy my own uniforms and shoes?

Enlisted members are provided uniforms free of charge.

12. What types of careers are available?

There are more than 60 different enlisted career opportunities at the 181st Intelligence Wing.

13. When and where can I take the ASVAB test?

The ASVAB test is given at various locations nationwide. Most applicants take the ASVAB test at the Military Entrance Processing Station in Indianapolis.

14. Do you accept members from other branches of service?

Yes, all branches of service are represented at the 181st Intelligence Wing.

15. Does my prior service count? Do I keep my rank? Can I wear my ribbons from another branch of service?

Prior service time counts for pay and retirement purposes. Individuals transferring from another branch of service do lose their date of rank. However, they usually retain their rank up through E-5. Ribbons awarded for meritorious service or commendation from another branch of service may still be worn on the Air Force uniform.

16. If I am prior service from a branch of service other than the Air Force, do I have to repeat basic military training?

If you have successfully completed a basic military training course, even if it was with another branch of service, you do not have to attend Basic Military Training (BMT).

17. What if I move out of the area, can I still be a member?

At the present time, you can still be a member of the 181st as long as you continue to attend scheduled Unit Training Assembly (UTA) weekends. Members who live outside our established commuting distance may be provided a motel room on UTA weekends, free of charge.

18. Is it really worth my time?

Absolutely! One weekend a month and 15 days of Annual Field Training (more commonly known as Summer Camp) is all it takes. As a member of the unit, the pride you will have for your country, and for yourself is beyond words. A little bit of time, a lifetime of pride.

Educational Benefits with the Indiana Air Guard

Can't afford a college education? Think again...

Self-improvement through education is a way of life for Air National Guard members. In fact, all of the enlisted members of the Indiana Air National Guard have been enrolled into an associate's degree program, and nearly half are actively pursuing their degree!

The Air National Guard realizes that success depends on education that doesn't stop with a high school diploma, but continues throughout life. Here's how Air Guard members are doing it.

Free training--and college credit too!

We will train you in the Air Force specialty of your choice. This may range from medical to aircraft maintenance, personnel, management, food and recreational services, security, meteorology, the building trades--nearly 100 different specialties! As you train, you will be awarded college credits that can be applied toward an associate's degree in your military career field, through the Community College of the Air Force (CCAF).

Enrollment in the CCAF is free and the credits earned may also be applied toward your college degree at a civilian college. By transferring credits between CCAF and a civilian college, some Air Guardsmen actually complete two associate degrees at the same time, depending on their degree programs.

For example, all individuals without prior military service must complete the nine-week Air Force Basic Military Training course in San Antonio, Texas. Through CCAF, individuals are awarded four semester hours in physical education for the training. Physical education is a basic requirement for most degree programs and the credits earned through CCAF work like other transfer credits at a civilian college.

Test for credit through Defense Activity for Non-traditional Education Support (DANTES)

This is an educational activity that provides support to the voluntary education programs of all the military services. Through DANTES and the College Level Examination Program (CLEP) tests, Air Guard members can cut the cost of attending college and shorten the time required completing a college degree. There's no charge for most of the DANTES and CLEP tests!

Stripes for Skills

Non-prior service can get a jump-start on their career by enlisting into a critical career field. A six-year enlistee is awarded the rank of E-3 in many cases. Ask your recruiter for more information about the Stripes for Skills program.

Monthly pay

In addition to any other bonus or Montgomery GI Bill, you will receive pay for participation one weekend per month. You'll work two days and get paid for four. Additionally, you'll get 15 days pay for participating in annual training. This amount will vary, depending on your rank and how long you serve. You also receive a full-time income while attending basic and technical training.

Other cost saving benefits

No other organization offers you so many educational benefits for so little of your time! But there are also other cost-saving benefits:

- $400,000 term life insurance for about $29.00 per month.
- Free uniforms.
- Free travel on space available flights.
- Medical care if you become ill or injured while on duty.
- Retirement benefits and pay after 20 years service and attainment of age 60.
- Free meals while on duty.
- State income tax breaks.
- Leadership, management and additional skill training as you progress.

College Assistance Fact Sheet

National Guard Supplementary Grant

The National Guard Supplementary Grant (NGSG) could pay up to 100% of your college tuition. To be eligible for a NGSG both the State Student Assistance Commission of Indiana (SSACI) and the Indiana National Guard must certify the student. Individuals must submit FAFSA form between 1 January and 10 March every year in order to qualify for NGSG the following fall.

Montgomery GI Bill & Kicker

The Montgomery GI Bill, a federally funded educational entitlement program, will pay you if you attend college. Full-time students (12 semester hours or more) receive about $367.00 per month and half-time students about $182.00 per month. You must attend a school approved by the Veterans Administration to receive this entitlement. The GI Bill is in addition to your monthly income from the Air Guard.

But wait! There's more! The Montgomery GI Bill Kicker is paid to those individuals who work in specific career fields and attend college. It adds an additional $350.00 per month for full-time students who enlist into career areas that will be outlined by the Recruiting Office Staff. And like the Montgomery GI Bill, it too is tax-free. That's more than $600 per month in tuition assistance--in addition to the monthly income from the Air Guard.

Colleges Accepted

All campuses of Ball State University, Indiana State University, Indiana University, Purdue University, Vincennes University, University of Southern Indiana and Ivy Tech State College.

To qualify for the Montgomery GI Bill you must enlist for 6 years. To qualify for the Kicker you must enlist in an incentive specialty AFSC. (See reverse page)

181st INTELLIGENCE

Career Opportunities

181st Intelligence Squadron

The 181st supports the war-fighter with the Sentinel Weapon System, part of the AF Distributed Common Ground System (DCGS). DCGS provides the capability to conduct multiple, simultaneous intelligence Surveillance, and Reconnaissance (ISR) missions worldwide through distributed operations 24 hours per day, 7 days per week. DCGS provides critical inputs for predictive battlespace awareness, targeting, ISR campaign planning and execution, and force protection.

Positions in the 181st include both Intelligence Analysts and Communication/Logistics Support. Satisfaction and pride from knowing that you are making a difference are two of the many rewards of the Intelligence Squadron career choices.

Note: ALL 181st DGS AFSCs require personnel to be eligible for a TOP SECRET // SENSITIVE COMPARTMENTED INFORMATION (TS//SCI) Security Clearance.

INTELLIGENCE ANALYSTS

Information that is processed at the 181st will be exploited and disseminated by the Intelligence Analysts. As part of the “kill chain”, analyst’s ability to correctly identify and concisely communicate essential elements of information is crucial.

COMMUNICATIONS LOGISTICS SUPPORT (CLS)

The Intelligence mission hinges on the proper functioning of operator work stations and the secure communications network. Intelligence CLS personnel perform the same essential function as an Aircraft Logistics unit: Keeping the Weapons System “Code 1”. Maintaining DCGS, however, has key differences:

- It’s not a single entity. DCGS consists of a local architecture of Computer Hardware, and a Distributed Enterprise of complex Secure Networks linking the USAF Intelligence community.
- In addition to routine Pre- and Post- Flight maintenance, the Intel CLS Specialist is responsible for ensuring the success of the mission in-progress – he/she is an integral part of the mission crew. Think “Flight Engineer”.
- The critical nature of “on-the-fly” systems support by the CLS team demands an interoperability of skills – 2E2X1 and 3C0X1 personnel must have some ability to perform each other’s tasks.

TACP Tactical Air Control Party 1C4X1***

Only a select few wear the Black Beret that symbolizes the Tactical Air Control Party (TACP). The Air Force specialists are assigned to Army combat maneuver units around the world. On a battlefield, they form a team that plans, requests and directs air strikes against enemy targets in close proximity to friendly forces. A TACP is generally a 2-3 airmen team, working in an Army ground unit and directing close air support firepower towards enemy targets on the ground

When U.S troops are engaged in combat and close air support is necessary a TACP will be called to provide the terminal control.

Putting bombs on target is their mission.

A TACP is generally a two-airman team, Working in an Army ground unit and directing close air support firepower towards enemy targets on the ground.

Prior to joining the TACP community you will complete 89 grueling days of training at Lackland AFB.

- The first block of instruction covers basic career knowledge.
- Block two, portable communications section, vehicle navigation, convoy training and small unit tactics. It's considered the "make-or-break" block of the school.
- During field portion of block three students are taken out, bringing only what they can carry on their back, for a six-day land navigation, global positioning system, map plotting and compass training exercise. They will learn to overcome fear and gain confidence during their solo day/night land navigation mission through the Florida backwoods. Students will have to rely on a map and compass. Instructors will often ambush the students simulating an actual combat situation. The students are deprived of sleep and put under constant physical duress to see how well they work as a team.
- The fourth block of training involves aircraft and vehicle recognition and air support coordination. The students will be taught how to better understand joint air operations centers and tactical air control systems.
- Block five covers pallet radios and students will learn to operate a mobile communications radio pallet.
- Block six is where all the training comes together. The students go on a three-day "real-world" scenario. They plot targets on maps, request aircraft for close air support using assigned call signs and work convoy procedures. The instructors have set up improvised explosive devices to make sure the students are moving in teams, keeping guard and helping each other as a team.
- A TACP is generally a two-airmen team, working in an Army ground unit and directing close air support firepower towards enemy targets on the ground.
